Good morning everyone,

I hope you are all well. As always, thank you to those of you who are sending me work that you have been doing or answers to my daily challenges. I do promise that I will respond to you but it is taking me a little longer than it has done previously because things are very busy at school at the moment.

We are working very hard to make sure that school will be safe for some of you to return on 1st June (and hopefully the rest of you as soon as is possible after that). In June school will be very different from what you have been used to. On Friday I will be sending a very long letter to your parents to explain what school will be like. I will also send you a shorter one with some of the main differences in so you have an idea.

We are very much looking forward to starting to get things more back to normal; we have missed you all and will hopefully see you very soon.

Mr Dyson's Daily Challenge

Today is a test of your observation skills. On the next page you will see 2 very similar pictures. Your job is to try and spot 5 differences between the pictures. You may also like to practice some of the skills that you have learnt in art to colour the pictures in. It would be good to see some of the techniques that you have done in art lessons used.

Good luck.
